

Reading from the Poetry of

Zafer Şenocak

Born 1961 in Ankara/Turkey, Zafer Şenocak has been living in Germany since 1970, where he has become a leading voice in the German discussions on multiculturalism, national and cultural identity, and a mediator between Turkish and German culture. His writings encompass poetry, prose fiction, and numerous essays, and have been published in major presses as well as leading German newspapers. He will be reading from his recent volume of poetry entitled Door Languages.

Reading will be bilingual, in German and English.

Tuesday April 21st 5:00 PM
University of Arizona Poetry Center
Rubel Room

During the 2015 Spring semester Mr. Şenocak is a writer in residence in the Department of German Studies at the University of Arizona

Department of German Studies
Learning Services Building • 301
P.O. Box 210105
Tucson, AZ 85721-0105

THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA
COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES
School of International
Languages, Literatures,
& Cultures